

2019 SCRA Budget Narrative

This document is intended to be a brief explanation of the SCRA 2019 budget posted on the SCRA website. If you have any questions about any budget items, please email the SCRA Treasurer, Jim Cook at: jcook@uncc.edu.

The Budgeting Process

SCRA yearly budgets are determined at the Executive Committee's Midwinter Meeting. Prior to each Midwinter Meeting, all EC members, councils, committees, and interest groups are asked to prepare a report for the SCRA Briefing Book, which forms the basis for the discussion at the Midwinter Meeting. Those reports contain a description of the activities of the group/individual over the past year, plans for the coming year, and any budget requests. Each December the members of the Executive Committee review the budget requests submitted by SCRA groups and members for the Mid-Winter Meeting Briefing Book. Each EC member rates each request, and provides a suggested level of funding. The Executive Director develops a draft budget, that includes the amount requested, last year's funding, the average EC ratings and the average EC suggested funding levels for each request. The Officers (the presidential stream, secretary, and treasurer) and the Executive Director the reviews the draft budget and compares the total amount of spending requested to the expected amount of funding available for the full operating budget of the coming year. If the total budget requests exceed the expected operating budget the Officers propose decreases based on needs, ratings, suggested funding levels, and submission timing, that result in a recommended balanced budget. The recommended budget is then presented to the Executive Committee for review and approval at the Mid-Winter Meeting.

Each request is considered individually. The intent of the Executive Committee is to create a balanced budget – with expected revenues and expected expenditures being about equal. However, included in the revenue is an amount from our investment holdings (“nest egg”). Our spending policy allows us to spend up to 5% of our total assets (calculated as the moving average of amount we held at the end of the preceding 12 quarters. While there are no specific categories of requests that we refuse to fund, the Executive Committee examines more closely any requests for food, travel, and honoraria. SCRA does have specific funds set aside for student and international initiatives and these can include travel.

The total number and amount of the requests funded depends upon the overall anticipated revenue and expenses for the year. In addition, an allotment is made for out-of-budget requests (i.e. those that are not included in the budget requests considered at the Midwinter Meeting) that cannot be anticipated at the time of the Mid-Winter meeting. These requests are considered by the Offices on an ad hoc basis.

Overview of the 2019 Budget –

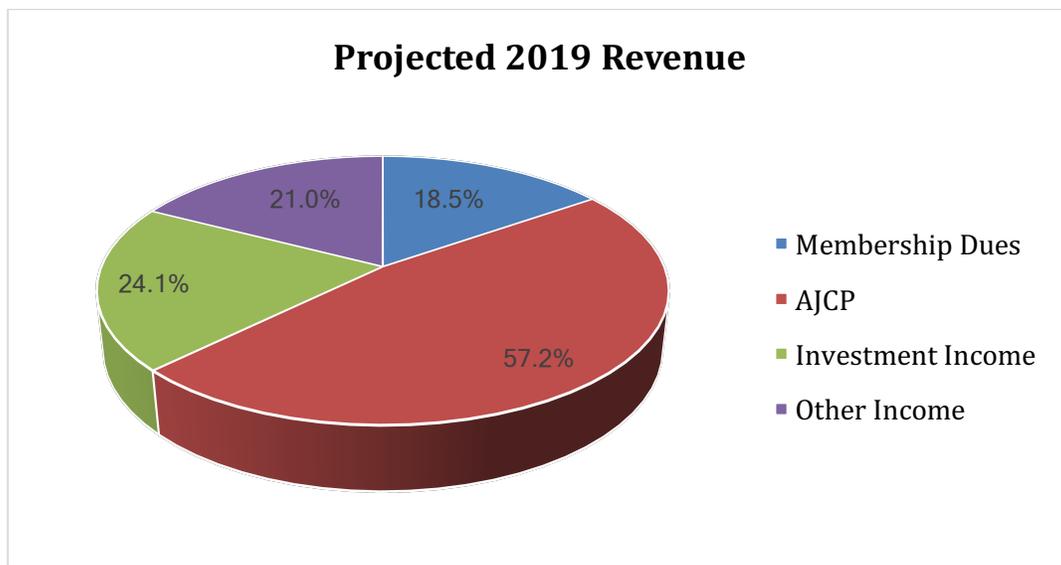

Projected Revenue

SCRA's largest source of revenue is, as in past years, expected to be based on royalties from our journal, the American Journal of Community Psychology (AJCP). However, due to changes in the publishing industry Wiley reported that they are losing money on the journal, and has asked to re-negotiate the contract in 2018. Those negotiations were completed in 2019, and our royalty revenue was decreased to $160,000 in 2018 and $100,000 in 2019.

Even with the decrease, royalties from AJCP category are projected to be 32% of our revenue in 2019. In addition to the revenue from royalties, we will continue to receive editorial support from Wiley in the amount of $78,289 in 2019 (25% of the total).

Our spending policy allows us to spend 5% of our investment savings each year. This year, that amount is $75,308, or 24.1% of our total income. Expected new and renewed membership dues represents 18.5% of our total expected revenues. SCRA receives revenue from a variety of other sources, including special fund donations, grants, and royalties outside of AJCP. In 2019, the "other income" category is expected to contribute to approximately 0.2% of the projected revenue.

See figure directly below for a breakdown of the revenue projected for this year.

Approved Expenses

“Membership services” comprise the largest category (40.8%) of approved expenses. Membership services include our three staff positions (Executive Director, Administrative Assistant, and Outreach Coordinator). The other significant membership services categories are those expenditures related to communications – including our SCRA website and communitypsychology.com, our use of a service to manage our membership dues receipts, and subscriptions to Zoom, Survey Monkey and Basecamp.

One-third (33%) of our expenses relate to the production our publications, primarily AJCP and The Community Psychologist. Most of those expenses (costs related to editing the journal) are directly paid by our contract with Wiley, and are included in the AJCP category in the revenue figure above. The “publications” category also includes costs associated with supporting the SCRA book series.

The “committees, councils and interest groups” (C/C/IG), “regional network initiatives”, and “student initiatives” categories include funding for conference programming and travel, awards, grants, and other initiatives. Together, the C/C/IG, regional network initiatives, and student initiatives categories make up 11.6% of the total 2019 approved expenses. This is a decrease from 2018 due to the decision to place a moratorium on all mini-grant programs while SCRA engages in an evaluation of their impact. This category still includes student thesis and dissertation research awards.

Expenses for the “executive committee” category are projected to be 8.2%, and include the cost of the Midwinter meeting, costs incurred by the Member(s)-at-Large and APA Council Representative for APA activities, awards given by SCRA, and costs associated with activities of the Presidential Stream. The “financial administrative” category (1.4%) is largely the cost of accepting credit cards for our membership dues and goes up during Biennial years due to the large volume of registration fees.

Finally, we have “miscellaneous expenses”, which includes financial support for the Global Journal of Community Psychology Practice and a small amount to help sponsor the International Conference on Community Psychology. This category makes up 2% of the budget.
